ACACIA TECHNOLOGIES ACQUIRES RIGHTS TO PATENTS FOR LOCATION BASED SERVICES (LBS) TECHNOLOGY

Newport Beach, CA. – (BUSINESS WIRE) November 17, 2006 – Acacia Research Corporation (Nasdaq: ACTG: CBMX) announced today that Acacia Patent Acquisition Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary that is part of the Acacia Technologies group, a leader in technology licensing, has acquired rights to patents relating to location based services (LBS) technology.

“Acacia continues to grow its base of future revenues by adding new patent portfolios,” commented Paul Ryan, Acacia Chairman and CEO. “As our licensing success grows, more companies are selecting us as their partner for the licensing of their patented technologies,” concluded Mr. Ryan.

This patented technology generally relates to locating mobile units, such as cell phones and embedded vehicle radios, within a cellular network and using the position information to provide services to the mobile user. It covers various means of accurately locating a mobile unit, including GPS and cell site triangulation. This technology is applicable to wireless emergency services (E911), vehicle tracking, vehicle assistance services and many other services that rely on knowing the location of a mobile user.
